

Veterinary consent is required prior to any session that is not considered maintenance. This is if your animal has been under the care of a veterinary surgeon for treatment of a condition

I hereby give permission for the veterinary physiotherapist to discuss treatment with my veterinary surgeon or the referring veterinary practice, and understand that the veterinary physiotherapist may refer my animal back to the veterinary surgeon if required

I give permission for the veterinary Physiotherapist to discuss with other relevant professionals i.e. behaviourist, saddler, farrier, nutritionist to help a multimodal team approach for my animal

It is the owner's responsibility to declare any changes to the animal's health, or condition in between treatments

Whilst every care is taken during a veterinary physiotherapy session, it is done so at the owner's risk

It is the owner's responsibility to inform the veterinary physiotherapist of any infectious and contagious conditions prior to a session. Failure to do so may result in no treatment and a full session charge

It is the owner's requirement to inform the veterinary physiotherapist if the animal's condition worsens, or if the veterinary surgeon advises the treatment is stopped or suspended

The veterinary physiotherapist reserves the right to refuse treatment to any animal if the veterinary physiotherapist's health is at risk, charges will still apply

Owners are required to provide suitable equipment for a physiotherapy session (head collar, lead rope, lead, collar, bed)

Photos and video footage may be obtained during a session, automatic permission is given for these to be used for education, informative or marketing purposes

The veterinary physiotherapist does not take any responsibility for any accident or injury sustained by the animal's owner or animal during a veterinary physiotherapy session

The veterinary physiotherapist cannot be held responsible for any loss or damage to vehicles or personal property, howsoever occasioned whilst on the premises

The veterinary physiotherapist operates with the adequate qualifications and insurance

Cancellation policy applies, please read each policy prior to a session.

Owners declaration.

I declare that I am the owner of the named animal and give permission for them to undergo physiotherapy with Animals in Action Veterinary Physiotherapy. I accept full liability to have provided the physiotherapist with my animal's full clinical history and aware of any known conditions.
